1. The former Luftwaffe school barracks in Markgrafenheide("A" on attached sketch), which had been converted to residential units, are again being converted to barracks to provide quarters for units of the Volkspolizei "coastal watch". The families which were housed here have been evicted. A 400-man unit of the Volkspolizei "coastal watch" has until now been quartered in the barracks ("B" on the attached sketch) north of the old airfields.
2. The old airfields directly east of Warnemünde are being maintained in operating condition. The concrete airfield farthest to the east, however, is slightly overgrown with weeds. (See attached sketch.)

This document is hereby regraded to CONFIDENTIAL in accordance with the letter of 16 October 1978 from the Director of Central Intelligence to the Archivist of the United States.
